```python
class Lesson:
    """
    Class to represent a lesson in a learning module
    """

    #initialize the lesson class
    def __init__(self, title: str, content: str):
        self.title = title
        self.content = content

    #view the lessons
    def view_lesson(self):
        print(f"{self.title}")
        print(f"{self.content}\n")

    #edit lessons based on user input def edit_lesson(self):
        print("\nEdit lesson\n") print("1. Edit title") print("2. Edit content") print("3. Go back")
        choice = input("Enter your choice: ")

        if choice == "1":
            self.title = input("Enter new title: ")
        elif choice == "2":
            self.content = input("Enter new content: ")
        elif choice == "3":
            return
        else:
            print("Please choose a valid option.")

    def __str__(self):
        return self.title

class Quiz:
    """
    Class to represent a quiz in a learning module
    """
    # initialize the quiz class
    def __init__(self, question, options, answer, hint, solution):
        self.question = question self.options = options self.answer = answer self.hint = hint self.solution = solution
        # print(options)

    # attempt the quiz,
    def attempt_quiz(self):
        print(self.question + "\n")
        for idx, opt in enumerate(self.options, 1):
            print(f"{idx}. {opt}")

        answer = int(input("\nYour answer: "))
        if self.options[answer - 1] == self.answer:
            print("Correct!")
        else:
            print("Wrong! Use hint or see the solution.") hint_choice = input("Want a hint? (Y/N): ") if hint_choice.lower() == "y":
                print(f"Hint: {self.hint}") solution_choice = input("See the solution? (Y/N): ") if solution_choice.lower() == "y":
                print(f"Solution: {self.solution}")

    # edit the quiz based on user input def edit_quiz(self):
        print("\nEdit quiz\n") print("1. Edit question") print("2. Edit options") print("3. Edit answer")
```

```
74            print("4. Edit hint")
75            print("5. Edit solution")
76            print("6. Go back")
77            choice = input("Enter your choice: ")
78
79            if choice == "1":
80                self.question = input("Enter new question: ")
81            elif choice == "2":
82                self.options = input("Enter new options: ")
83            elif choice == "3":
84                self.answer = input("Enter new answer: ")
85            elif choice == "4":
86                self.hint = input("Enter new hint: ")
87            elif choice == "5":
88                self.solution = input("Enter new solution: ")
89            elif choice == "6":
90                return
91            else:
92                print("Please choose a valid option.")
93
94        def __str__(self):
95            return self.question
96
97
98    class LearningModule:
99        """
100       Class to represent a learning module in CodeVenture 101       """
102       # Initialize the learningModule class, which contains quizzes and lessons 103       def __init__(
104           self,
105           title: str,
106           description: str,
107           lessons: list[Lesson],
108           quizzes: list[Quiz],
109           difficulty: int,
110           achievement: str = None, 111       ):
112           self.title = title
113           self.description = description
114           self.lessons = lessons
115           self.quizzes = quizzes
116           self.difficulty = difficulty
117           self.achievement = achievement
118
119       def get_title(self):
120           return self.title
121
122       def get_description(self):
123           return self.description
124
125       def edit_lesson(self, lesson: Lesson):
126           lesson.edit_lesson()
127
128       def edit_quiz(self, quiz: Quiz):
129           quiz.edit_quiz()
130
131       def __str__(self):
132           return self.title
133
134       # shows the module in a nicely formatted way.
135       def view_module(self):
136           print("\n====== Module =======\n")
137           print(f"{self.title}\n")
138           print(f"{self.description}\n")
139           print("\n====== Lessons ======\n")
140           for lesson in self.lessons:
141               lesson.view_lesson()
142           print("====================\n")
143           print("1. Attempt quiz")
144           print("2. Go back")
145           choice = input("Enter your choice: ")
146
```

```
147             if choice == "1":
148                 print("\n====== Quiz ======\n")
149                 for quiz in self.quizzes:
150                     quiz.attempt_quiz()
151                 print("\nQuiz completed!")
152             elif choice == "2":
153                 return
154             else:
155                 print("Please choose a valid option.")
156
```